Is this right or is this wrong?

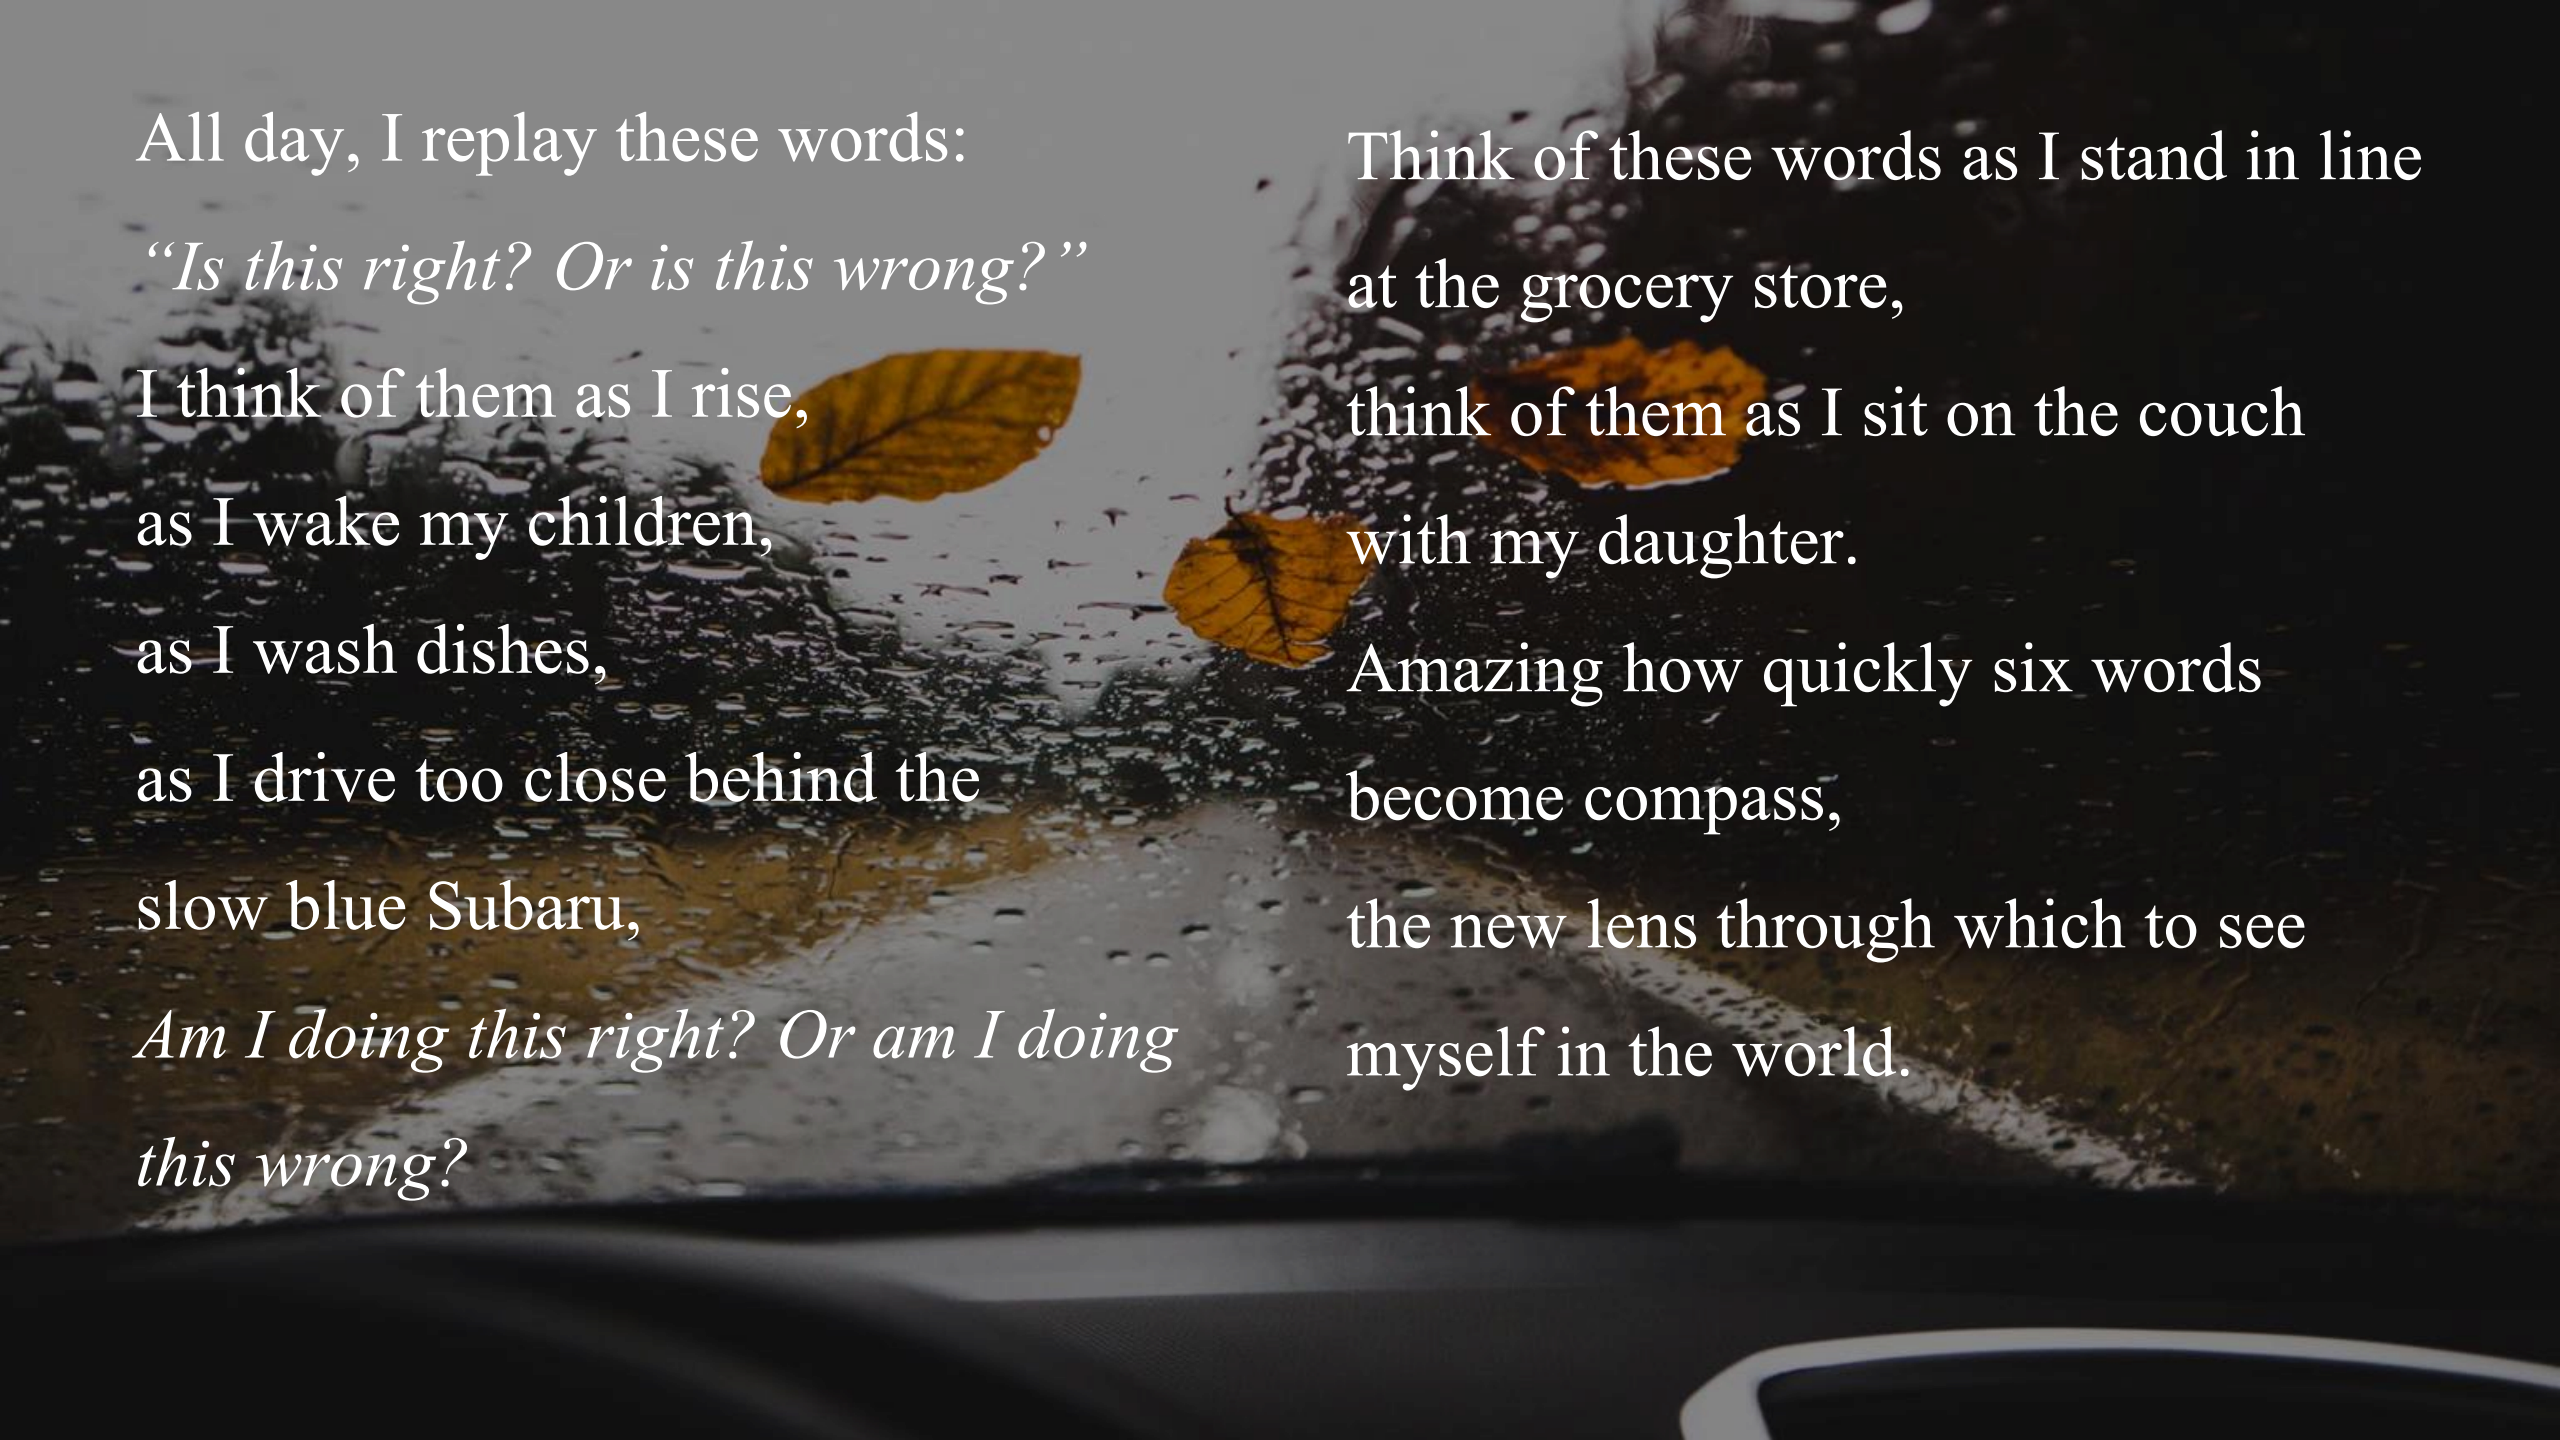
I notice what the question is not.
Not, “Is this right?” Not, “Is this wrong?”



All day, I replay these words:

“Is this right? Or is this wrong?”

I think of them as I rise,

as I wake my children,

as I wash dishes,

as I drive too close behind the

slow blue Subaru,

Am I doing this right? Or am I doing this wrong?

Think of these words as I stand in line

at the grocery store,

think of them as I sit on the couch

with my daughter.

Amazing how quickly six words

become compass,

the new lens through which to see

myself in the world.

~~IS THIS RIGHT OR IS THIS WRONG?~~

IS THIS THE PATH OF LOVE?

The Greatest Commandment

34 Hearing that Jesus had silenced the Sadducees, the Pharisees got together. 35One of them, an expert in the law, tested him with this question: 36 "Teacher, which is the greatest commandment in the Law?"

37 Jesus replied: "'Love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind.' 38 This is the first and greatest commandment. 39 And the second is like it: 'Love your neighbor as yourself.'40All the Law and the Prophets hang on these two commandments."
